

Points of Pride

1

CROWLEY MIDDLE SCHOOL

After missing the first seven months of school due to medical treatments, Carter Reid was welcomed with open arms and a cheering section at Crowley Middle School Monday. The campus rolled out the red carpet with music, the dance team and hundreds of encouraging classmates that lined the hallways to his first period classroom. Welcome back Carter!

2

PARKWAY ELEMENTARY

Our awesome STEM Plus specialist, Naydimar Torres from Parkway Elementary has been selected for the NASA LiftOff Institute. Only 25 educators in the state of Texas are selected every year. NASA announced her name on February 23. She will be with astronauts, engineers, and scientists, learning more about human space exploration. She will be in Houston this summer in all-expense-paid training at the NASA headquarters! Congratulations Mrs. Torres. We are proud of you.

3

ABILITY GAMES

Crowley ISD secondary students are gearing up for the annual Ability Games competition. On Friday, March 8 exceptional students from every middle and high school will meet up at the multi-purpose stadium to enjoy some fun and games. We are excited for this annual event and the opportunity to enjoy the family. Crowley pride...unified!

4

JUNE W. DAVIS ELEMENTARY

Career Day at June W. Davis Elementary was a day to remember! Presenters included a NICU nurse, a tv producer, a boxer, a Trinity Metro public bus, restoration experts, small business owners, and law enforcement officers. We are so thankful for our partnership with Junior Achievement making this special day possible, and we can't wait to see what our Trailblazers accomplish in the future!

MORE CROWLEY PRIDE ON BACK

5 | COMMUNICATIONS & MARKETING

Crowley Pride was on display at the Texas School Public Relations conference as our communications and marketing team was honored with 10 Gold Star awards, 2 Silver Star awards, 1 Best in Category Award and a Table Decorations win! The team also presented at three sessions and shared strategies with colleagues from across the state. Congratulations Mr. Kirchner and the entire team for representing us with pride!

6 | BESS RACE ELEMENTARY

Young Ladies of Distinction is led by Ms. Hughes at Bess Race. The mission is to motivate, build up self-esteem in our young ladies, and to serve and uplift the school and community through engagement and outreach activities. On February 21st the young ladies went to University of Texas at Arlington and received a tour dorms, the engineering department and much more as they learned about the importance of higher education. The young ladies will engage in a crowning ceremony on March 21st at 5:30 P.M. #CrowleyPrideUnified

7 | SPECIAL EDUCATION

Crowley ISD Special Education hosted the Creating Possibilities Resource and Transition Fair for All Ages at the Bill R. Johnson CTE Center on Saturday, March 2. This event offered a unique opportunity for families to explore resources and services for individuals with disabilities available in our community. With over 20 exhibitors and vendors participating, families were able to ask questions and gain information on education, employment, healthcare and much more.