TSI Prep Camp is designed by TCC staff to provide training and practice in essential skills necessary for success on each TSI subject area exam: Reading, Writing, and Math. A sample rotation might be Session 1-Reading TSI Prep, Session 2-Writing TSI Prep, Lunch, Team Building, and Session 3-Math TSI Prep. TSI exams will be taken on the last day of camp.

CCA New Student Orientation (NSO) is planned and led by the current CCA student leaders. Planning begins near the end of each school year after current students have completed college courses and before taking any high school course finals. Planning continues into the summer via shared Google documents and possible Google Hangout meetings or face-to-face meetings, so that final preparations are complete prior to orientation dates. Members of the planning committee recruit CCA student volunteers to work the various activities during NSO.

- Day 1: A short presentation begins the day in the cafeteria to introduce the student leaders, teachers and administration. The purpose of NSO is communicated so incoming CCA students will learn more about our program, their peers and their teachers, as well as starting to build relationships in this family we call CCA. Inspirational video with opportunity to discuss what inspires them with their table group; followed by a challenge to consider the message of this video in relation to our goals at CCA. Campers are divided into 7 groups to rotate through the student led activities. A survey is gathered at the end of the first day to understand what questions campers have in order to address these questions the following day.
